Opening Letter

Dear student,

This portfolio is a personalized document. It is not only a testament to the student's progress, their efforts, their acquisitions, and their diplomas, but also their personal experiences and realizations.

Updating a portfolio helps the learner to actively participate in the learning process and to value all that which contributes to the enrichment and the diversification of that process.

This portfolio is meant to help students manage themselves throughout the learning process. It will help the students to clearly define their motivations and their needs.

According to the Council of Europe, portfolios document the skills in foreign language acquisition, certifications, intercultural experiences, and personal experiences of their holders.

Let this portfolio guide you through your Francophone journey at the Alliance Française de Philadelphie. Stay curious, and be open to continuous improvement.

Warm regards,

Your AF Philadelphie team

Learning a new language

Immerse yourself

The AFP implements an action-based method and communicative approach in its classes to engage every student. Students are immersed in a Francophone setting with little to no English to maximize the learning experience.

Our teachers are native and near-native French speakers that create a relaxed yet studious atmosphere. The AFP offers core classes that exploit modern French teaching textbooks as well as an array of workshops, “Immersion classes,” created by the teaching staff. You will gain the confidence to speak, read, write, and understand French but you will also learn about the Francophone World.

The chosen textbooks are designed to allow students to discover grammar and to use it in context. They are in French to allow students to approach the language within context which will help them use what they learn in different contexts as well. Students will learn the basics of the French language and build on their knowledge with every unit. Students will also write, read, and speak French with their peers to further enhance the experience in the classroom.

The Alliance Française de Philadelphie offers both in-person and virtual classes, which are held on Zoom.

Set attainable goals

It is the goal of most of our students to be able to converse in French. It is important to know that the language learning process is not one that occurs overnight. Diligence and consistency are a part of the process.

It is also imperative to have a continuous conversation between the teacher and the student about class levels. By doing this, the student will know what they are capable of producing and what they will be able to produce later in their Francophone journey at the AFP. Communication between the student and their teacher will also allow them to plan and study accordingly.

Learning a new language is a substantial process, but just remember, even though the road to fluency might be long, here at AFP we especially want you to enjoy the journey.

Resources

The AFP is more than a French school; it's an immersive experience. Here, you can communicate in French with our staff, and our Library and Mediatheque consist of over 5,000 items for students including Francophone books for all levels.

Furthermore, the AFP organizes cultural events every month, and every one of them is an opportunity to learn more and immerse yourself in the French language and Francophone culture.

Moreover, there are diverse resources online that can be shared. When enrolling in a class, the student will receive a handful of practical resources that they can utilize.

Student guidelines

The following are suggested practices and imperative elements for studying a foreign language. Please understand that everyone has a unique learning method and that all suggestions may not apply to you. It is important to explore different ways of learning, your teacher and classmates may also help you.

- Know your motivation. Do you want to learn because it is your dream? A professional goal ? An academic goal ? Whatever your goal is, it is crucial to commit to it.
- Do not panic or be discouraged when you find obstacles, all your efforts will be rewarded at a given time! The learning process is never fully linear, it takes time.
- Learn to accept that failure and mistakes are a part of the learning process, the classroom is the best place to make them!
- Learn the golden question in a classroom: “Comment dit-on __en français ?”
- Study out loud and with a mirror handy to check mouth shape for proper pronunciation.
- Do not translate sentences, attribute words to images in your head (e.g. Think of a tree when you say arbre, think of a sad memory to attribute triste).
- Do not be shy! You are learning a new language and you need to take the risk to talk and not worry about judgment or making mistakes!
- Learning is a continuous process, which is why you may feel that you are always behind. You are learning something new all the time. Take the time to look back and recognize your progress.
- Practice fake conversations in your head to know what to say in real scenarios.
- Do your homework and study about 10-30 minutes per day.
- Use the Resources and Supplementary Resources provided in the Portfolio for your class.

- Learn about the Francophone cultures, pick up a book, research online and immerse yourself in all the knowledge.
- Oral comprehension (books)
 - Try and understand the global idea of an audio before understanding it word by word.
 - Listen to it several times before reading the transcription.
 - Find cognates and refer to what you already know before looking in a dictionary.
- Do not try to get ahead in readings unless asked to by the professor.
- Surround yourself with people that speak French and that are just as passionate as you are, or more! Learn from them, share with them, and engage with them.
- Be open to the Francophonie. There is a vast Francophone world out there waiting to be discovered by you!
- Doing your part as a student is just as important as the teacher's.
- Have fun! Learning a language is fun, challenging, and interesting, seize every opportunity!
